Hello,

I'm checking again to see in case this email slipped through the cracks.
Or if I should respond via the online forum again instead of replying to this thread?

Could you kindly provide me with an appointment this week.
I need to travel from Gothenburg so it would be great if I knew the appointment at least the before day.
Thank you!

Best,

Sri Datta

RE: Letter of Application / Employment Visa / Sri Datta Budaraju

Dear Visa Officer,

I provide this letter as part of my application for a long-stay D ‘employment’ visa. Here are my personal details:

- Full name: Sri Datta Budaraju
- Date of birth: 29/10/1997
- Nationality: India
- Passport number: P9581358

Reason for Travel

I am moving to Ireland to take up employment with Google Ireland Limited. I have been granted a Critical Skills Employment Permit by the Department of Enterprise, Trade & Employment.

Request for Multiple-Entry Visa

I respectfully request a multiple-entry visa, in line with the following guidance issued by ISD, following the news that IRP cards are now used as re-entry visas:

If you plan to leave Ireland and return within a few months of your arrival we recommend that you apply for a multi entry visa. This will eliminate the need to apply for another visa from abroad, in the event of your IRP card not being received prior to your departure.¹

I wish to have the flexibility to make short trips abroad, which may be required by my job. I therefore ask for a multiple-entry visa in order to facilitate any potential travel, while I wait for my IRP card to be issued.

Family Members in the EU

I confirm that I have no family members living in Ireland or another EU country.

Commitment

I confirm that I will obey the conditions of my visa in full. I will not rely on public services in Ireland or become a burden on the State. I also commit to leave Ireland before my immigration permission expires.

Return of Original Documents

I have included the following original documents with this application, each accompanied by a photocopy. I respectfully ask that the originals are returned to me once my application has been processed by your office.

- Original Passport
- Soft Copy Employment permit
- Original Employment contract
- Original Degree certificates and transcripts
- Original Bank statements

Thank you for your assistance with my application. My contact details are below should you need to reach me.

Yours sincerely,

Sri Datta Budaraju

On the 6th March 2019, Heather Humphreys TD, Minister for Business, Enterprise and Innovation, and Charlie Flanagan TD, Minister for Justice and Equality, announced changes to immigration arrangements for spouses and partners of Critical Skills Employment Permit (CSEP) holders and Researchers under a Hosting Agreement as provided for under the EU Third Country Researchers Directive (Council Directive 2005/71/EC).

These changes allow for spouses and partners of CSEP holders and Researchers under Hosting Agreements to access the labour market without the need for an employment permit. These changes take immediate effect.

The Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) of the Department of Justice and Equality will grant eligible spouses and partners of CSEP holders and Researchers under Hosting Agreements permission to reside in this State on Stamp 1G Conditions without the need to obtain a Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit from the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Employment. This means that eligible spouses and partners of CSEP holders and Researchers under Hosting Agreements may access the labour market when they receive this Stamp 1G, and no longer need to obtain a Dependant/Partner/Spouse Employment Permit.

An eligible Dependant of a CSEP Holder or Researcher under a Hosting Agreement still requires an Employment Permit to work in the State. Further information is available at the following link:
<https://enterprise.gov.ie/en/What-We-Do/Workplace-and-Skills/Employment-Permits/Permit-Types/Dependant-Partner-Spouse-Employment-Permit/>

Details on the new immigration arrangements, and how to apply, are available from the INIS website -
<http://www.inis.gov.ie/en/INIS/Pages/revised-immigration-arrangements-for-the-spouses-and-de-facto-partners-of-critical-skills-employment-permit-holders>

INIS has also produced an FAQ document on the new immigration arrangements which is available at the following link - <http://www.inis.gov.ie/en/INIS/faq-spouse-partner-csep.pdf/Files/faq-spouse-partner-csep.pdf>

Any queries on the new arrangements should be directed to INIS, contact details are included in the above link.

Construction sector roles covered by Sectoral Employment Order

Sectoral Employment Orders (SEO) covering rates of pay, sick pay, and pensions for workers in certain sectors were signed into law on foot of recommendations from the Labour Court. The SEOs place a legally binding floor on rates of pay and obligations in the relevant sectors, including the Construction sector, regarding employment in the State.

There are two criteria that determine who is covered; the employer must operate in the construction sector, and the employee must work in the sector and fall under one of the defined classes or roles. Further information is available on the Workplace Relations Commission website - Construction Sector - Workplace Relations Commission

8. Information on the national higher education system

See attached information on the The Swedish higher education system.

The Swedish higher education system

According to legislation after 1 January 2007.

The following description is approved by the Swedish Council for Higher Education.

The Swedish higher education system is based on the Swedish Higher Education Act (SFS 1992:1434) and the 1 January 2007 amendments to the Higher Education Ordinance (1993:100). The following description is a short summary based on the legislation regulating the Swedish higher education system.

Qualifications from all higher education institutions (universities, university colleges and independent higher education providers) that are recognized by the Government are of equal official value. The same legislation governs all state higher education institutions. All Swedish degrees are issued in accordance with the same degree ordinances.

Quality assurance

The Swedish Higher Education Authority has been responsible for the quality assurance system for all higher education since 1 January 2013. For more information, please visit www.uka.se. Evaluation reports are available to the public.

National Qualification Frameworks

The Swedish Higher Education Act and the Higher Education Ordinance have been amended in accordance with the agreements reached as part of the Bologna Process, including the Qualifications Frameworks in the European Higher Education Area (QF-EHEA). Legislation for a three-cycle structure of higher education started to apply in July 2007, and is now the only one in use in all Swedish higher education. Transitional provisions apply to courses and programmes that started prior to this. For more information, please visit www.uhr.se/en or enic-naric.net.

In 2015, the Swedish Government decided on a national qualifications framework (SeQF), based on the European Qualifications Framework for Lifelong Learning (EQF). The SeQF has eight levels that are in accordance with the EQF levels. Higher education qualifications are at levels six to eight. For more information, please visit www.seqf.se.

Credit system

Sweden has a system of credits (högskolepoäng); a normal 40-week academic year corresponds to 60 credits. The system is compatible with ECTS credits.

Grading system

There is no national grading system in Sweden. Higher education institutions may determine which grading system is to be used. No overall grade is awarded for a degree and students are not ranked. For example, Grade Point Average (GPA) and other ranking systems are not used in Sweden.

Access and admission

There are general and specific entry requirements for access to higher education within all cycles. The specific entry requirements vary according to the field of higher education and/or should be essential for students to be able to benefit from the course or study programme. The number of places is limited on all study programmes and courses.

The general entry requirements for first-cycle studies are the same for all higher education. General entry requirements can be attained by completing an upper-secondary school programme, via adult education at upper-secondary school level or the applicants achieving a comparable level of learning outcomes through other education, practical experience or other circumstances.

The general entry requirements for second-cycle studies are a first-cycle qualification of at least 180 credits, or a corresponding foreign qualification. An applicant may also be accepted on the basis of a comparable level of learning outcomes obtained through other education, practical experience or other circumstances. →

The general entry requirements for third-cycle studies are a second-cycle qualification, or completed courses worth at least 240 credits (of which 60 credits are at second-cycle level) or the equivalent level of knowledge acquired in Sweden or abroad. Furthermore, for entry to third-cycle studies, the applicant must be deemed able to benefit from the education.

Qualifications

All courses, study programmes and qualifications are on one of three levels: first-, second- or third-cycle. In the Higher Education Ordinance, the Government has determined which qualifications may be awarded, as well as their scope, requirements and intended learning outcomes. There are three categories of qualifications: general; the fine, applied and performing arts; and professional qualifications. For some more information, please see below.

Sri Datta Budaraju of

("You")

Start of Employment

2. Your employment with Google will start on 16 December 2024 or such later date as you and Google may agree in writing (the "Start Date")
3. Your employment with Google is conditional at all times on you having legal permission to work in Ireland and you having completed Google's on-line export control questionnaire. If you do not complete the questionnaire Google may (at its sole discretion) postpone your Start Date until such time as the questionnaire is completed, revoke any offer of employment or terminate this contract. Google assumes no responsibility whatsoever if any work permit (if required) or any other required employment authorization is not available on the Start Date or is not available at all and Google reserves the right to revoke any offer of employment or terminate this contract in such circumstances.
4. No employment with a previous employer counts towards your employment with Google.
5. The first 6 months of your employment will be a probationary period. During the probationary period, your performance and suitability to perform the role and continued employment will be monitored. Your employment may be terminated by Google for any reason at any time during this period or at the completion of this period on 1 week's notice ("Probationary Notice Period"). Google may at its discretion pay you in lieu of all or part of the Probationary Notice Period. Where payment is made in lieu, your employment shall terminate with immediate effect. Google may at its sole discretion extend the probationary period for up to a further 5 months. You will be given notice of any such extension in writing. Google's disciplinary procedures shall not apply to employees who have not completed the probationary period, save where allegations of misconduct have been made.

The actual bonus amount could be larger or smaller than this amount based on your performance and that of the company. The exact bonus amount is in the sole discretion of Google and to be eligible to receive a bonus payment you must be employed by Google on the date on which payments under the plan are paid. Payment of a bonus in one year is no guarantee of future payments and Google reserves the right in its absolute discretion to vary or withdraw the plan at any time. Any bonus payments made to you will be subject to deductions for tax and any other applicable lawful deductions.

In accepting the Relocation Support, you acknowledge that you are expected to relocate and be physically present in your assigned work location by the Start Date. Any benefits and reimbursements associated with the Relocation Support are subject to expiry and must be fully utilized within 12 months of the Start Date. If you fail to relocate within 12 months of your Start Date, you are obligated to repay 100% of the value of your Relocation Support.

12. Additionally Google will also pay you a one time sign-on bonus of € 10,500.00, which will be paid less tax and any other applicable lawful deductions. If you or Google terminate your employment for any reason and/or either you or Google give the other notice of termination of employment prior to you completing 12 months of employment from the Start Date, you will be required to repay the sign-on bonus on a pro-rated basis.
13. Google will reimburse any reasonable expenses you incur when performing your duties of employment, subject to you complying with its rules and policies relating to expenses in force from time to time. You will be expected to produce receipts as evidence of any expenses.

If a scheme provider (e.g. an insurance company) refuses to provide benefit(s) to you under the applicable scheme, Google will not be liable to provide or compensate you for the loss of such benefit(s).

Place of Work & Homeworking Arrangements

17. Your normal place of work is at Google Velasco , Grand Canal Street Lower, Dublin D02 X430, Ireland and your home address, in Ireland from time to time. However you will also be required to attend and work at any other premises Google currently has or may later acquire within Ireland. You may also be required to travel and work within Ireland and abroad for the performance of your duties.

On the termination of your employment you must return the Company Property to Google.
20. You are responsible for ensuring the security of all secret and/or confidential information in your home. You agree and undertake to comply with Google's policies relating to confidentiality and data privacy in force from time to time.

21. Your normal hours of work will be 40 hours a week/ 8 hours a day (excluding lunch break) Monday to Friday. You should manage your start and finish times in a way that is not detrimental to your work, clients or team. Google reserves the right to stipulate your specific hours of work and to change your start and finish times and the days you work. Your role may require you to work additional hours as necessary to meet the needs of the business. No overtime shall be paid for such additional work.
22. In addition due to business requirements and the nature of your position, it is a condition of your employment that if required you will provide on call services in accordance with the applicable on call policy for your function (which Google may amend from time to time), in order to provide 24 hour, 7 days a week cover in your team. Such on call services may take place during business and non-business hours. You may be required to work on weekends and during public holidays when on-call and may be required to work early mornings and late evenings or nights. You will be notified by your manager in advance of any requirement to be on call and will be given as much notice as possible, usually not later than 1 week prior to the on-call work. In a normal working week you are reasonably expected to work 40 hours per week, normally spread over 5 days. Your working hours and shift patterns will vary, however, due to the nature of Google's business and fluctuations in business levels which may result in you working more or less than these expected working hours. Google will provide you with as much advance notice as possible of any changes to your expected weekly working hours but you are required to be flexible in your hours of work to meet the varying demands of the business.

You determine your own working hours for the purposes of section 3(2)(c) of the Organisation of Working Time Act 1997 and hereby acknowledge by accepting this contract that Part II of the Organisation of Working Time Act 1997 shall not apply to your employment under this contract.

Holidays

23. You will be entitled to 25 working days holiday per annum (excluding public holidays normally applicable in Ireland). Google's holiday year runs from 1 January to 31 December. If your employment starts or finishes part way through the holiday year, your holiday entitlement during that year will be calculated on a pro-rata basis.
24. You must submit all holiday requests to your Line Manager for approval via Google's HR system. Subject to Google's holiday policy in force from time to time, holiday entitlement must be taken in the same holiday year or it will be lost. You will not be paid in lieu of any untaken holiday except if Google opts to make such a payment when your employment ends.
25. If on termination of your employment you have any accrued but untaken holiday Google may at its sole discretion require you to take all or part of this holiday during your notice period or pay you in lieu of this holiday. If you have exceeded your accrued holiday entitlement Google will deduct the excess from any sums due to you on termination.
26. In addition to your annual holiday you are entitled to paid time off on all public holidays normally applicable in Ireland. However, you may be required due to Google's business needs to work on a public holiday. If you are required to do so, you will be granted a day's annual leave in lieu. You must get approval from your Line Manager before taking the additional day in lieu in the same way as for normal holiday requests.

Sickness or Injury

27. If you are absent due to sickness, you must notify your Line Manager (or the People Operations (HR) Department if your Line Manager is not available) before 10.00 a.m. on the first day of sickness, giving the reason for your absence and its anticipated duration. You must let Google know as soon as possible if there is any change to the anticipated length of your absence. When you return to work you must update the applicable HR systems as appropriate.
28. You must produce a doctor's certificate (signed by a doctor) if you are sick or medically incapacitated for three days or more. You should then submit medical certificates as appropriate to cover your absence in full. If a medical certificate expires and you are not able to return to work, then you must let either your Line Manager or the People Operations (HR) Department know by 10.00 a.m. on the first morning after the certificate expires. In the event of persistent absences due to illness, Google may require you to be examined by a doctor or consultant appointed on its behalf. Google reserves the right to require you to undergo a medical examination (at Google's expense) at any time during your employment for the purposes of establishing your fitness to work.
29. Google is not obliged to pay you during any absence on grounds of illness but you may be eligible to receive applicable Department of Social Welfare or equivalent benefits. Payment of company sick pay ("Company Sick Pay") is entirely at Google's discretion. Any Company Sick Pay will be: (i) based on your normal base salary less normal deductions for tax and applicable lawful deductions; and (ii) be inclusive of any Social Welfare or other benefit which you are eligible to receive whether or not claimed by you. You must let Google know if you receive any Social Welfare or similar benefits.
30. You are required to comply with all of Google's policies and procedures relating to the reporting of sickness absence (including uncertified sickness absence) set out in this contract and Google's sickness absence policy in force from time to time. Google reserves the right to withhold the payment of Company Sick Pay (if any) if you fail to comply with these requirements.

Notice of Termination

31. After successful completion of your probationary period either you or Google may terminate your employment on one month's written notice (or such longer period of notice as may from time to time be required by law). Google reserves the right to pay your net base salary only in lieu of notice. This may be paid in instalments and will not include the value of any benefits, bonus, sales incentive, pension contributions or holiday entitlement which would have accrued if you had been employed for the duration of your notice period. Notice will not be given in circumstances which justify summary dismissal including but not limited to gross misconduct and if you cease to be legally able to work in Ireland. Examples of gross misconduct are set out in the Google's employee handbook which is available on our internal website or through the People Operations (HR) Department.

32. During any period of notice (whether given by you or Google), Google may require you:
 - (a) to carry out no duties of employment;
 - (b) to remain away from the office;
 - (c) not, without the prior written consent of your Line Manager, to contact or deal with (or attempt to contact or deal with) any officer, employee, consultant, client, customer, supplier, agent, distributor, shareholder, adviser or other business contact of Google or any Group Company; and/or
 - (d) to carry out such duties as Google may require provided that the duties are of a standard appropriate to your job description.
33. Google reserves the right to suspend you on full base salary and benefits pending any investigation into potential dishonesty, gross misconduct or other circumstances which (if proved) would entitle Google to dismiss you summarily.
34. Google may terminate your employment in accordance with this contract irrespective of any actual or future loss of entitlement to Company Sick Pay (if any), long term disability or medical insurance benefits, and if it does terminate your employment in these circumstances Google will not be liable to provide or compensate you for the loss of these benefit(s).

Handbook/Policies

35. Google issues (and may change) various codes of conduct, policies and procedures from time to time. Whilst the codes of conduct, policies and procedures do not form part of this contract, you remain subject to their provisions and agree to ensure that you are familiar with and comply with them.
36. Google's non-contractual grievance and disciplinary procedures are available from the People Operations (HR) department or on our internal website. If you are unhappy with any aspect of your employment you should first raise the matter with your Line Manager or the People Operations (HR) Department.

Exclusivity of service

37. Whilst you are employed by Google you will not be engaged, concerned or interested directly or indirectly with any other person, firm or company (whether as an employee or in any other capacity in any trade, business or occupation whatsoever) which is in competition or in conflict with the interests of Google or any Group Company or where it may adversely impact on your ability to perform your duties.
38. Prior to commencing employment, you are required to disclose any outside interests and seek appropriate authorisation from Google to continue these outside interests whilst employed by Google. During employment, you must seek prior authorisation from Google for any new outside interests prior to embarking on them. Authorisation will not be unreasonably denied. If you are found to be in breach of this clause, this may lead to disciplinary action up to and including termination of your employment. Please refer to Google's Code of Conduct, which is on our internal website, or talk to your Line Manager or the People Operations (HR) Department if you have any questions about your obligations under either this or the previous paragraph of this contract.

Export Control and FCPA

42. If an export control licence is required in connection with your employment, your employment will be conditional at all times on: (a) Google's receipt of the appropriate export control licence and/or any similar approvals required from time to time; and (b) your ongoing compliance with all conditions and limitations contained in such a licence and/or approvals. If for any reason such export control licence and/or government approvals cannot be obtained within six months of the date on which you sign this contract, Google may revoke any offer of employment or terminate this contract in accordance with applicable local law.
43. You are required to familiarise yourself with the provisions of Google's Code of Conduct and Anti-Bribery and Government Ethics Policy ("Ethics Policies") prohibiting foreign bribery and improper payments and requiring strict compliance with the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act ("FCPA") and/or other anti-corruption laws. The Ethics Policies are available on our internal website or through the People Operations (HR) Department. You must comply fully with all applicable laws, the provisions of the Ethics Policies, the FCPA and any corresponding laws of any other jurisdiction during your employment with Google.
44. Google is part of the Alphabet Inc. ("Alphabet") collection of companies. Re: Restricted Stock Units of Alphabet Inc.

Dear Sri:

As discussed, if you agree to the terms set out in the letter and electronically sign and confirm in 10 business days, we intend to recommend to the Board of Directors of Alphabet Inc. (the “Board”) that you be eligible to receive a one-time grant of restricted stock units (“GSUs” or “Awards”) payable in shares of Alphabet Inc. (“Alphabet”) Class C stock.

This Award will entitle you to that number of GSUs determined by dividing 73,500.00 USD by the average closing price of Alphabet’s Class C stock for the calendar month prior to the date of grant, rounded up to the nearest full GSU.

At the time of vest of the Award, the vested number of GSUs will convert to shares of Alphabet Class C stock. If the US financial markets are closed on a vesting date, shares will vest on the next trading day.

Provided you are eligible for such grant, and once the grant is made, the Award will vest (assuming your continued employment with Alphabet or a subsidiary of Alphabet, hereinafter referred to as the “Employer”) over a four-year period according to the applicable vesting schedule. The number of GSUs granted and the vesting schedule details will be provided in the grant materials that you should receive shortly after the grant. This one-time grant is subject to approval of the Board and subject to the terms of the relevant Alphabet stock plan as referenced in your grant agreement (the “Plan”). In addition, the grant will be made only if permissible under the laws of the country in which you reside. Alphabet reserves the absolute right in its sole discretion to suspend, modify, cancel or terminate the Plan at any time without compensation to you.

You acknowledge and agree that if Alphabet grants Awards to you, your acceptance of the grant will be voluntary and that the benefits under the Plan will not be part of your employment contract with your Employer, your salary or other remuneration for any purposes, including for purposes of computing payment during the notice period, payment in lieu of notice, severance pay or other termination compensation or indemnity (if any). If Awards are granted to you, the benefits under the Plan will be available to you only during the course of your employment with your Employer, and the vesting of any Awards will cease upon the date of termination of employment for any reason, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Plan and your grant materials. You further acknowledge and agree that, if Alphabet grants any Awards to you:

- i. The grant of the Awards is discretionary and occasional and does not create any contractual or other right to receive future grants of Awards, or benefits in lieu of Awards, even if Awards have been granted repeatedly in the past;

- ii. all determinations with respect to any future grants, including, but not limited to, the times when Awards will be granted, the number of shares subject to each Award and the time or times when each Award will vest, will be at the sole discretion of Alphabet; and
- iii. the future value of the underlying shares is unknown and cannot be predicted with certainty.

If Alphabet grants any Awards to you, you will be responsible for complying with any applicable legal requirements and Alphabet policies, including Alphabet's Policy Against Insider Trading, in connection with your participation in the Plan and for any taxes or social insurance contributions arising from the grant, vesting or exercise of your Awards, sale of shares or dividends on shares (regardless of any tax withholding and/or reporting obligations of your Employer), and you agree that it is your responsibility to seek advice from your personal accountant or tax advisor at your own expense regarding the tax implications of any Awards granted to you.

You understand that, in order for Alphabet to administer the grant of Awards and any future participation in the Plan, Alphabet and your Employer must collect, process and transfer certain of your personal data. By signing this letter, you agree to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal data, as described in the attached Appendix B.

You agree to execute any necessary or appropriate additional agreements, documents or instruments in connection with such grant of Awards (if any).

This letter and any Award grant made to you will be governed under U.S. federal and California state law (but not including the choice of law rules thereof). The federal and/or state courts of the State of California, County of Santa Clara, will have exclusive jurisdiction to adjudicate any dispute arising out of this letter or any Award grant made to you.

By,

Fiona Cicconi
Senior Vice President People Operations and Chief People Officer
Google LLC and Alphabet Inc.

APPENDIX B

By signing the letter to which this Appendix B is attached, you agree to the additional terms and conditions set forth in this Appendix B.

1. Alphabet is located at 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, U.S.A., and grants employees of Alphabet and its affiliates Awards, at Alphabet's sole discretion. If you would like to be eligible to participate in the Plan, please review the following information about Alphabet's data processing practices and declare your consent.
2. Data Collection and Usage. Alphabet collects, processes and uses your personal data, including, name, home address and telephone number, date of birth, social insurance number or other identification number, salary, citizenship, job title, any shares of stock or directorships held in Alphabet, and details of all Awards cancelled, vested, or outstanding in your favor, which Alphabet receives from you or your Employer. If Alphabet offers you a grant of Awards under the Plan, then Alphabet will collect your personal data for purposes of implementing, administering and managing the Plan. Alphabet's legal basis for the processing of your personal data would be your consent.
3. Stock Plan Administration Service Providers. Alphabet may transfer personal data to third parties which assist Alphabet with the implementation, administration and management of the Plan, including Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., Morgan Stanley Smith Barney, LLC, and/or such other third parties as may be selected by Alphabet. In the future, Alphabet may select a different service provider and share your data with another company that serves in a similar manner. Alphabet's service provider will open an account for you to receive and trade shares of Alphabet. You will be asked to agree on separate terms and data processing practices with the service provider, which is a condition to your ability to participate in the Plan.
4. International Data Transfers. Alphabet and its service providers are based in the United States. If you are outside the United States, you should note that your country may have enacted data privacy laws that are different from those of the United States. Alphabet's legal basis for the transfer of your personal data is your consent.
5. Data Retention. Alphabet will use your personal data only as long as is necessary to implement, administer and manage your participation in the Plan or as required to comply with legal or regulatory obligations, including under applicable tax and securities laws. When Alphabet no longer needs your personal data, Alphabet will remove it from its systems. If Alphabet keeps data longer, it would be to satisfy legal, tax or regulatory obligations and Alphabet's legal basis would be relevant laws or regulations.
6. Voluntariness and Consequences of Consent Denial or Withdrawal. Your participation in the Plan and your grant of consent is purely voluntary. You may deny or withdraw your consent at any time. If you do not consent, or if you withdraw your consent, you may not be able to participate in the Plan. This would not affect your salary from or employment with your Employer; you would merely forfeit the opportunities associated with the Plan.
7. Data Subject Rights. You may have a number of rights under data privacy laws in your country. Depending on where you are based, your rights may include the right to (a) request access to or copies of personal data Alphabet processes, (b) rectification of incorrect data, (c) deletion of data, (d) restrictions on processing, (e) portability of data, (f) lodge complaints with competent authorities in your country, and/or (g) request a list with the names and addresses of any potential recipients of your personal data. To receive clarification regarding your rights or to exercise your rights, please contact gem-help@google.com.
8. Additional Consents. Upon request of Alphabet or your Employer, you agree to provide a separate executed data privacy consent form (or any other agreements or consents that may be required by Alphabet and/or your Employer) that Alphabet and/or your Employer may deem necessary to obtain from you for the purpose of administering your participation in the Plan in compliance with the data privacy laws in your country, either now or in the future. You understand and agree that you may not be able to participate in the Plan if you fail to provide any such consent or agreement requested by Alphabet and/or your Employer.
